WAR DEPARTMENT,
Office Indian Affairs, February 25, 1839.

SIR: I have the honor to submit a report on the resolutions of the Senate of January 23, calling for information respecting the persons employed under the Cherokee treaty of December, 1835, the species of funds furnished to carry its provisions into effect, and the improvements valued.

The accompanying copies of papers received at this office are believed to contain all the information in its possession, respecting all the points of inquiry, except two: First, the aggregate amount paid each individual employed; which, as some of the accounts have not been rendered, cannot now be ascertained. Second, whether the premiums received on exchanges have been accounted for; which cannot be stated, for the same reason.

I have caused some portions of the correspondence relative to these exchanges to be copied, although not called for by the resolution, as they go to explain their causes and character.

Very respectfully, your most obedient servant,
T. HARTLEY CRAWFORD.

Hon. J. R. POINSETT, Secretary of War.

War Department,
Office Indian Affairs, July 25, 1836.

Sir: The selection and general supervision of the agents to be employed in appraising improvements under the treaty with the Cherokee Indians of December 29, 1835, having been committed to you, I proceed to state some principles for their observance in the execution of this duty.

You will divide the country ceded by the first article of the treaty into convenient districts, and assign to each a sufficient number of agents for the prompt completion of this business. You will report to this office the names and residences of these agents, and indicate the district in which each is to be employed.

The improvements to be valued are such as were in the possession of the Cherokees at the date of the treaty, and as add any value to their lands. The agents will be required to take an oath to act with perfect impartiality, and they will be specially instructed to receive all the statements and estimates of the Indians, and to examine, personally, every thing pointed out to them. And in determining the value of the improvements, they will be influenced neither by a desire to be generous on the one hand nor parsimonious on the other.

Each improvement will be appraised by two agents, and when their estimates agree, and are approved by you, they will be final. If they disagree, the decision will be referred either to yourself or to one of the commissioners appointed to examine claims, as may be most convenient. If the owner of the improvement be dissatisfied, and, in the opinion of either of you, he has just cause to be so, the whole matter will be submitted to the joint action of the commissioners. Great care will be taken to ascertain the persons entitled to each improvement, and in determining this, reference will be had to the laws of the State, and to the laws and usages of the Cherokees. Information respecting these will be obtained from the persons named in the twelfth article of the treaty. When the title to a particular place is contested, the question will be referred to the decision of the commissioners.

Each district will, if necessary, be subdivided, and two agents will act in each subdivision, who will keep but one register. Of this register three copies will be made by them, one of which will be sent to this office, and another to the acting superintendent of Indian affairs west of the Mississippi; the third to the commissioners. These registers will show, in separate columns, the name of the owner of the land, its situation, the number of acres under improvement, distinguishing the different kinds thereof, the extent of the fences, the buildings, and other improvements not herein enumerated, the value of each separate improvement, and the aggregate value of the whole. The circumstances in each case in regard to which the agents disagree, or the holder may be dissatisfied, or the title may be disputed, will be briefly stated, with the grounds of the ultimate decision. The registers will be signed by the agents, and countersigned by yourself.

The appraising agents in each district or subdivision will give public notice of the times and places at which they will commence this business, and they will then proceed to its execution with as much despatch as may be consistent with correctness and the rights of the parties. If the owners are present, they will value the improvements successively, passing from the first to the adjoining one, and by this mode greater regularity will be insured, and the owner of each improvement will know when it is to be valued.

The treaty provides that the ferries shall be valued according to their net income. The agents will receive upon this point the statements of the owners, and of others who, from their business or residence in the vicinity, may have means of knowing the income, and decide upon a fair consideration of the whole matter. If they cannot agree, it will be referred to the commissioners.

The claims of Cherokees who may have been dispossessed of their improvements and houses, provided for in the 16th article of the treaty, have been referred to the commissioners, and they will furnish you with a list of such as they may admit. They have been authorized to call upon you for the services of the appraising agents, if required, to ascertain the extent of losses and damages. Ferries, for this purpose, will be considered as improvements.

As the appraisement in each district is completed, you will cause a new register, in triplicate, to be prepared from it, showing only the name of the owner of each improvement, and the aggregate amount due to him. This you will deliver to the commissioners, with the register of the appraising agents. The commissioners will then enter upon it the amount of the claims they have allowed, and deliver it to the disbursing officer, with such instructions in regard to the times, places, and manner of paying for improvements, debts, or claims, as they shall think proper. Similar entries of the debts will be made upon the other two copies of the registers. If the debts exceed in amount the valuation of the improvement, and of any individual claim against the nation, they will be paid pro rata.

The compensation of the agents will be four dollars a day, and of the interpreters, of which a sufficient number will be appointed by you, two dollars and fifty cents a day, for every day of actual service, to be paid upon your certificates. A reasonable sum will also be allowed for necessary incidental expenses, upon the rendition of the usual vouchers.

You will communicate and co-operate freely with the commissioners upon all subjects connected with the execution of your duties, and you will, from time to time, make full reports of your proceedings.

Very, &c.,

C. A. HARRIS, Commissioner.

To Major B. F. CURREY, Calhoun, Tennessee.

P. S.—I enclose copies of instructions to the commissioners, and to General Wool, and of a letter to the former of the 16th instant.

Extract from the instructions to the Cherokee commissioners, dated July 25, 1836.

I transmit a copy of the treaty, and of the instructions to Major Currey for the appraisement of the improvements, from which you will perceive that certain duties may devolve upon you; and to these I have to request your attention, especially to the instructions to the disbursing officer for the payments for improvements, debts, or claims. If circumstances permit at the time, it is intended that the payments shall be made under your immediate supervision.

ATHENS, TENNESSEE, June 6, 1837.

SIR: I have the honor to inform you that, on the 13th of May, I received from Richard Bennett a draft on the branch of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee, at Athens, for $200,000, to be disbursed under the Cherokee treaty of 1835; which draft has been returned to me protested, under the following circumstances:

The commissioners deeming it expedient to have $100,000 delivered at New Echota, before the funds there on hand should be exhausted, requested that, as my personal services at New Echota would not readily be dispensed with, Dr. Reynolds should take my draft, proceed to Athens, and procure for the present wants of the disbursing agent $100,000, twenty-five thousand to be in specie, and seventy-five thousand in notes of the Planters' Bank, payable at Nashville. The draft was accordingly presented by Dr. Reynolds, at the bank, with the instructions of the commissioners with regard to the kinds of money wanted; when the cashier refused to pay any other money than notes of the Planters' Bank, payable at New Orleans.

Upon receiving this refusal, Dr. Reynolds had the draft formally protested, and returned it to me at New Echota.

It was omitted to be stated in the body of the protest, that the notes offered were those payable at New Orleans. This being considered necessary by the commissioners and myself, who were the endorsers of the draft, I called upon the notary public who drew up the protest, to have this inserted. He returned it to me, stating that the cashier declined any further answer.

When requested to state this fact, the notary was suddenly struck with the recollection that something else had been said, and refused a certificate as to his first assertion. I have for several days been exerting myself to procure, through him, an answer from the bank, in answer to the simple question as to where the notes offered to Dr. Reynolds were payable, and to have it inserted in the protest. The notary exhibiting so much evasiveness, I thought proper to call on the cashier myself this morning, and inquire if he had any objection to give an answer of some kind. The cashier received me politely, and replied he had no objection; and after I left him wrote me a note, a copy of which I transmit herewith. Before writing to you, and after receiving this note, I thought proper to see the notary again, who had left me some hours previous, to ask the simple question before mentioned. He informed me that he had been to the bank and could obtain no satisfactory answer. I told him at once, sternly, that he and the bank were trifling with me, and that I must and would have an answer, or expose their whole conduct. This had the desired effect, and in ten minutes I obtained the certificate of the notary, which is herewith transmitted. What could be the object of the bank in evading this question is more than I can divine, but that they have done so is very evident; and the notary himself said to me that a gentleman of the law, who is pretty well understood to be the bank adviser, had advised him that it was not necessary to trouble himself further with the protest.

You will readily perceive from the protest, a copy of which is herewith transmitted, that it was almost tantamount to no protest; for the notes therein asserted to have been offered as payable on demand are not described, and for all we can learn from that document, may be payable at Athens, New Orleans, or London. It is, no doubt, the fault of the notary that this was not inserted in this first instance; and it seems to me an extraordinary proceeding that the bank should evade, upon a second application of an officer of the Government, to state the whole truth concerning the matter.

When the commissioners were advised of the facts, they instructed me, as my funds were exhausted, to procure from Lieutenant Bennett a draft for one-half of the two hundred thousand dollars, which he has been advised was subject to his order, and placed in the branch of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee, at this place, payable at Augusta. I was further instructed that, upon procuring this draft, I would proceed to Augusta, and ask of that bank $25,000 in specie, and $75,000 in their own notes. On my arrival at this place, I find that the warrant for this money has not yet reached the bank.

A few days since I presented the commissioners the order from the Adjutant General's office, recently transmitted to me through your office, and requested to know in what manner I was to be governed. I received, on the following day, a written answer, a copy of which is transmitted.

I have the honor to be your most obedient servant,

J. P. SIMONTON,
Capt. U. S. A., Dis. Agent.

C. A. HARRIS, Esq.,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

OFFICE OF PLANTERS' BANK, TENN.,
Athens, June 6, 1837.

DEAR SIR: For your satisfaction, and for the information of the department, I beg leave to say, in explanation of the protest of Major Bennett's check in your favor, for $200,000, that, in the conversation between Doct.

Reynolds, who presented it, and myself, and in my communication to him before the protest, I stated that I did not think I ought to issue any paper except payable at New Orleans. I was induced to believe so from the general suspension in the eastern cities, and the great revulsion in the money market of our whole country. But he refused to receive any of that kind; and as this refusal was not contemplated by the bank, inasmuch as Judge Kennedy had made a personal request to the president of this office, in April last, for $75,000 of the aforesaid sum, in the notes payable at New Orleans, nothing more was said as to when the balance would be payable; but this would have been managed as satisfactorily as possible, if Doctor Reynolds had been authorized to receive the $75,000 agreeably to the Judge's requisition, and which we had taken special pains to have here accordingly.

We are extremely anxious to accommodate, as far as possible, at all times, and I cannot conceive that we have been otherwise in this instance.

In haste, I am, very respectfully, your friend and most obedient servant,

WILLIAM CLARKE, Cashier.

Captain J. P. SIMONTON.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
State of Tennessee, McMinn county, } ss:

Be it known, that on the day of the date hereof, I, Samuel H. Gordon, notary public for the county of McMinn, in the State of Tennessee, duly commissioned and sworn according to law, residing in the town of Athens, in said State, at the request of J. C. Reynolds, exhibited to William Clarke, cashier of the office of said bank at Athens, the original check whereof a true copy is on the other side written, and demanded payment thereof from said cashier, at said office, it being the place where said check was made payable, and I was answered by said cashier, that "he is willing to pay said check, when properly endorsed, in the notes of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee, payable in specie, on demand; which he believes is the kind of money contemplated by Government in the contract with the Planters' Bank, should be issued in payment of Treasury warrants, and that the Planters' Bank notes are always redeemed with specie when presented."

Whereupon I, the said notary, at the request aforesaid, have, and do hereby, solemnly protest against the drawer of the said check and endorsers, and all concerned, for all exchange, re exchange, costs, damages, interests, suffered and to be suffered for want of payment thereof.

This done and protested at Athens aforesaid, this 27th day of May, 1837.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my notarial seal, this day and year above written.

ATHENS, June 6, 1837.

I, Samuel H. Gordon, notary public for the county of McMinn, in the State of Tennessee, do hereby certify that, on this day, I was requested by Captain J. P. Simonton to call upon the cashier of the branch at Athens of the Planters' Bank of the State of Tennessee, and to request of said cashier to state in what bank paper he was willing or offered to pay the check presented by Doctor Reynolds, which check was for two hundred thousand dollars. Said cashier said he was willing to pay $75,000 in notes of the Planters' Bank payable in New Orleans, and the balance depending where the Doctor might want it.

Given under my hand, this 6th of June, 1837.

COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE,
New Echota, May 29, 1837.

SIR: Being apprised that you have been notified that you might consider yourself relieved from duty here, as soon as you have performed the duties in which you are now engaged in the Indian Department, we deem it expedient to state to you, that the duties in which you are now engaged, as disbursing agent under the Cherokee treaty of 1835, will necessarily require the constant services of a disbursing agent to the end of the present year, or longer. We take pleasure in adding, that if consistent with the public interest, it would afford us personal gratification to have your services at this station continued.

We are, very respectfully, your obedient servants,
WILSON LUMPKIN,
JOHN KENNEDY,
Commissioners.

Captain J. P. SIMONTON,
Disbursing Agent, &c.

Extract of a letter from Messrs. W. Lumpkin and John Kennedy, commissioners, &c., to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated July 3, 1837.

"As to the kind of funds which would be received at this time here, in discharge of claims under the treaty, it is proper to remark that every recipient would prefer specie, because it is worth more than the paper of any bank which has suspended specie payments; yet all recipients who expect or intend to use their funds in Georgia, would take the bills of the Augusta Bank, rather than lie out of their money.

"The recipients who wish to use their money in the State of Tennessee, will be satisfied with nothing but specie, and would not take the bills of the Tennessee Bank at all in payment of their demands against the Government. Our only object in giving you this retrospective sketch, is to afford the means of correcting the evils of which we complain, hereafter."

Extracts of a letter from Captain J. P. Simonton to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated Athens, Ga., August 10, 1837.

"I have the honor to inform you that since my last to you, in June, I have been endeavoring to procure the funds deposited in the Bank of Augusta, Georgia, for the purpose of carrying out the Cherokee treaty. I have finally procured $200,000, and am now on my way to New Echota. Ten thousand dollars was all that was offered in specie, ten thousand in United States bills, and the balance in the bills of the Bank of Augusta. After consulting with Commissioner Lumpkin, it was thought best to comply with these terms, as the demand for money by the holders of certificates has been very urgent.

* * * * * * * * *

"My instructions from the commissioners in the first place was to demand $50,000 in specie, which the bank considered unreasonable, in the extreme. It was not until after several days' negotiation that I was able to effect the present arrrangement. It is the best, I believe, under existing circumstances, that could be made. The credit of the Bank of Augusta stands high in the country, and I think there will be little difficulty in disposing of the amount of their bills which I have drawn to the numerous certificate holders among the whites. It is, however, of great importance that some speedy arrangement should be made to procure specie for the Indian recipients."

* * * * * * * * *

Extracts of a letter from Messrs. Wilson Lumpkin and John Kennedy to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated September 8, 1837.

"Since we obtained the funds from the Augusta bank and the Treasury drafts, we have had but little difficulty in meeting the requisite payments under the treaty. It is true, however, that almost every recipient would prefer specie—confidence in paper not having yet been restored—and because specie can still be sold for a premium; we hope, however, to experience but little difficulty hereafter upon the subject of funds.

* * * * * * * * *

"No arrangement has yet been made with the Tennessee Bank, nor can there be any at present, upon the terms proposed by the bank, viz: from 7½ to 10 per cent. in specie, and the balance in its own bills. Public confidence in the bills of the bank is not such as to reconcile any of the recipients, under the treaty, to the reception of these bills in the payment of their dues from the Government."

New Echota, Georgia, September 27, 1837.

Sir: Yours of the 29th and 30th of August have been received. In relation to what is said in that of the 29th, I have to state as follows:

In the month of August I received from the Treasurer of the United States $200,000, in drafts on sundry banks and receivers of public moneys in the South, to be disbursed under the act of Congress of July 2, 1836, for carrying into effect the Cherokee treaty.

Of these drafts there are on hand to the amount of $25,000; the balance have been disposed of, some to the recipients of money under the treaty, and others have been exchanged at par for available funds.

Within a few days after the receipt of the drafts I disposed of several thousand dollars of them to recipients, chiefly merchants and business men, and some of the principal men among the Cherokees, who understood their value. It was, however, soon discovered that the great mass of recipients among the whites did not understand them, and it was out of the question to attempt to pass them to the illiterate Indians. About the same time suddenly sprung up among the Cherokees a spirit of enrolling for emigration, and the greater number of persons enrolling became recipients of small sums which the drafts would not answer to pay.

You are aware how important it is to keep up this spirit of emigration at this period, and every one who knows any thing of the Indian character and the present condition of affairs in the Cherokee nation is aware that this spirit would have been very much depressed, and probably extinguished altogether, without proper means to keep it up. The ordinary currency of the country the Indians have been taught to believe is worth nothing to them west of the Mississippi; it was therefore necessary to seek for such as enjoyed their confidence, and leave no room for complaint.

It was then deemed expedient, under the circumstances, to exchange the drafts for such funds as would be made available in carrying out the views of the Government.

Accordingly, $76,900 were exchanged at par with the Insurance Bank of Columbus, Georgia, for the purpose of obtaining $10,000 in specie for the immediate use of the emigrants. $25,000 have been disposed of according to an agreement (a copy of which is herewith transmitted) between Wm. Hardin, president of the Western Bank of Georgia, A. Miller, one of its agents, and myself. This step was not taken without consulting the commissioners, and it was their opinion that the object to be obtained justified the course.

The Western Bank of Georgia is a specie paying bank, and is entitled to great confidence. A few thousand, say about $10,000, have been disposed of, at par, to different individuals, for specie and current notes of the country.

This is a brief history of the disposition of the drafts which I have received from the Treasurer.

The idea of exchanging drafts at a premium never occurred to me. As a disbursing officer, I had taken it for granted that they were to be disposed of to recipients of public money where it was convenient, and when it was authorized, and the public convenience required exchanges. I presumed the Government of the United States only asked dollar for dollar.

Proceeding upon this principle, I have made all exchanges at par, and have made no exchanges where I did not suppose the money received would be used to a greater advantage for the public service than the drafts themselves.

The funds received from the Insurance Bank of Columbus have thus far answered all the purposes of specie, and the Indians seem universally to have confidence in them. Without them I scarcely know how the public business here would have progressed. $10,000 were promptly furnished in specie by the Western Bank of Georgia, under the arrangement with Messrs. Hardin and Miller.

This supply was most positively demanded, as the small supply of specie obtained at Augusta was completely exhausted; and it was necessary to make some show of specie to gratify the emigrants and silence complaint.

I have the honor to be your most obedient servant,

J. P. SIMONTON,
Capt. U. S. Army, and Disbursing Agent.

C. A. Harris, Esq.,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

New Echota, Georgia, September 16, 1837.

For and in consideration of the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, in Treasury drafts of the United States, this day received by us from Captain J. P. Simonton, of the United States army, disbursing agent, &c., we, William Hardin and Andrew Miller, do hereby agree and bind ourselves, our heirs, &c., to pay and deliver to said Simonton, or his order, whenever hereafter applied for, at the banking house of the Western Bank of the State of Georgia, in the town of Rome, ten thousand dollars in current specie coin; and on or before the expiration of sixty days from this date, we promise, as aforesaid, to pay to the said Simonton the further sum of fifteen thousand dollars, in the bills of the Bank of Augusta, the Bank of the State of Georgia, or of the Western Bank of the State of Georgia. And for the purpose of affording the said Hardin and Miller a reasonable opportunity of converting said drafts into funds to suit their convenience, and to prevent their sustaining loss upon said drafts, the said Simonton hereby covenants and agrees to pay the reasonable expense which may be incurred in sending an agent to the cities of Augusta, Savannah, and Charleston, and of transporting the sum of ten thousand dollars from any one of the cities named to the town of Rome, in the county of Floyd, Georgia. But the said Simonton has no agency in the employment of the agent, or responsibility for funds confided to the care of said agent. Furthermore, it is agreed and understood, and the said Simonton hereby binds himself to the said Hardin and Miller, that if at any time within sixty days from this date they, or either of them, shall return and deliver to him the drafts which they have this day received from him, he will then and in that case return to them the amount of specie, and in like coins as he shall have received from them, and that the whole of this agreement shall be cancelled, in all its parts, and the parties restored to the same condition as if this agreement had never been entered into, the contemplated expenses excepted.

In witness whereof, the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals, the day and date first within written.

WILLIAM HARDIN, [L. S.]
President Western Bank of Georgia.
A. MILLER, [L. S.]
Agent to Bank of Georgia.
J. P. SIMONTON, [L. S.]
Captain U. S. Army and Disbursing Agt.

CHEROKEE AGENCY, Tennessee, April 9, 1838.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit, herewith enclosed, the protested draft of R. Bennett on the Branch of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee, at Athens, for $200,000.

With regard to this draft, I have to say, that I have made use of every endeavor on my part to dispose of it satisfactorily. The present state of the currency, and the desires of the Cherokees, make it necessary, at this time, to ask for specie or Treasury notes. The funds offered by the bank, with the exception of the specie, cannot be made available.

I have been surprised by that part of President Watson's letter in which he states that he has been informed, by intelligent persons residing near the Cherokees, that they believe notes of the Planters' Bank and of the State Bank of Alabama would be acceptable to the Cherokees. I challenge any intelligent man who has ever witnessed the payments made in my office since the suspension of specie payments, to point out an instance of the kind, when other funds could be had. Tennessee and Alabama money has been paid from necessity, but received with great reluctance.

The scurrilous article which has been going the rounds of the newspapers, accusing the commissioners of receiving from the Government good funds and paying off the Cherokees in depreciated funds, may serve to show whether it would be policy to deal in these funds. Tennessee and Alabama money is at this very time being paid out here by public officers in the military department at eight per cent. discount. These funds have been furnished these disbursing officers at eight per cent. discount, and the recipients have their option whether to take it or wait until the Government can furnish better funds. The recipients, with them, are white men, residents of the country, and if they do not choose to wait, can make use of their money in the country. The Cherokees are about to remove; the great mass of them understand nothing of the value of paper money; would it then be worth while to attempt to offer Tennessee or Alabama funds at par as acceptable to the Cherokees?

I am informed, from a highly respectable source, that the State bonds offered cannot, at this time, be made available in specie or Treasury notes.

Since Treasury notes have been issued, the Cherokees refuse to take anything else than Treasury notes or specie. It is of no use to offer anything else, so long as we have it. I have a few hundred dollars of Georgia money and Tennessee paper yet on hand, and it is with difficulty that I can pay twenty dollars of it in the payment of sums of one, two, three, or four hundred dollars. This will serve to show the estimation in which Georgia money is held.

I would observe that the recipients of money now are nearly all Cherokees, the whites having nearly all been paid during the past summer and winter.

I have, &c.,
J. P. SIMONTON,
Capt. U. S. Army, Disbursing Agent.

C. A. HARRIS, Esq., Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

CHEROKEE AGENCY, Tennessee, April 18, 1838.

SIR: I have the honor to inform you that, since I transmitted the protested draft of R. Bennett, I have had an interview with the president of the Planters' Bank of Tennessee, on the subject of said draft. Being aware of the great anxiety of the Government to dispose of this business, I have agreed to the following arrangement with the president, believing that it would be perfectly satisfactory to the department.

The Planters' Bank furnish me with $50,000 in specie now. Paymaster Bennett will take $100,000 of the amount of the draft, in notes of the Planters' Bank, to be furnished him at eight per cent. discount; which notes he will disburse to the troops in the same manner he receives them, provided they are willing to take them. For any amount paymaster Bennett may disburse in this manner, he is to furnish me with such funds as the Government may send him. The remaining $50,000 is to be furnished me hereafter in available funds, (specie if I require it,) whenever I may ask for them.

This arrangement, I think, will rid the department of any further trouble about this matter. I have not the least doubt that the troops will be glad to receive the Planters' Bank notes at the rate proposed, and the money that Paymaster Bennett will receive will answer me. If Paymaster Bennett's funds will not answer me, they, of course, must answer the purpose of the Government in some department; and I have taken the present course with a view to make this debt due the Government available in some shape. This step makes available to me, immediately, $50,000; and I am assured that $50,000 more shall be at my disposal whenever I may call for it.

I cannot, at any rate, see how the Government can lose by the transaction, and it may be very much accommodated.

I would therefore request that no action be taken on the protested draft of R. Bennett by the Treasury Department, but that it be sent back to me for the purpose of carrying out the views herein contained.

In consequence of this arrangement, it will be unnecessary, for the present, to make any arrangement for furnishing the $50,000 in specie, asked for by the commissioners in their letter of the 28th of February last.

The Treasury notes called for are very much needed. If Treasury notes cannot be furnished immediately, I would desire that I may be authorized to draw for a further amount, payable in current funds in Philadelphia. The high rate of exchange has made these drafts available, and they are now readily exchanged for specie.

I have the honor, &c.,

J. P. SIMONTON,

Captain U. S. Army, Disbursing Agent.

C. A. HARRIS, Esq., Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Extract of a letter from J. Cruttenden, Esq., to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated April 23, 1838.

I have also Tennessee funds, which the bank has made an arrangement to allow us to disburse at eight per cent. discount, which will enable me to make payments satisfactorily with those funds for almost all payments, except to Cherokee emigrants."

Extract of a letter from Captain John Page to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated Calhoun, Tennessee, June 8, 1838.

"Captain Simonton has got on hand, in silver, $16,000, which he says cannot be spared for emigrating the Indians. He also has $3,000 in Tennessee money, at 8 per cent. This arrangement was made with the bank, and what he did not use he was to return back again.

"Since this arrangement, the bank has made arrangements with the Quartermaster Lieutenant Hetzel, to let him have it at 10 per cent., and he pays it out in that way; consequently, Captain Simonton, and also the commissioners, say they cannot use any more of the Tennessee money, as 10 per cent. discount will be required of them, or people will not receive it. As he cannot spare any silver, Tennessee money will not answer out of the State."

Extract of a letter from John Kennedy and James Liddell, Cherokee commissioners, to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated July 30, 1838.

* * * * * * * * *

"On the subject of funds, it is proper to inform you that, in consequence of the disbursing agents (attached to other departments at this place) falling short of funds, we advised Captain Simonton, on the reception of our last requisition of $100,000 in Treasury notes, to aid the service by loaning a portion of his funds to them, supposing that they would soon be supplied with the same description of funds, and be enabled to repay Captain Simonton in time to meet the demands upon his department. These officers, it appears, have since received their expected supply, but as it consists in eastern and southern drafts, it is wholly unavailable in the disbursements to Indians."

* * * * * * * * *

Extracts of a letter from Captain J. P. Simonton to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated August 3, 1838.

"I have to state to you that about $100,000, reported on hand, is a portion of the $200,000 which was to be collected from the branch of the Planters' Bank, at Athens, Tennessee. I must report this sum as unavailable, although it is probable I may get from them a few thousand dollars in available funds. But the bank has so shamefully forfeited their engagements with me, that I can place no further confidence in them.

"My letter to you of the 18th April last, informed you that I was to receive $50,000 in specie immediately, and $50,000 more when I should call for it. It was perfectly understood, in the presence of the commissioners, that the last $50,000 should, at any period asked for, be furnished.

"The first $50,000 were promptly furnished, but my second call has been answered with but $2,000 in specie and $12,200 in Treasury notes.

"The call for specie now is very great, and having no other resource, I have obtained from Mr. Cruttenden Treasury drafts drawn on the receiver of public moneys at Kaskaskia and Shawneetown, to the amount of $19,000. General Scott, at my request, has granted me the service of an officer to go for these funds, and Lieutenant Grandin, of the 4th infantry, leaves to-day for Kaskaskia."

* * * * * * * * *

"Paymaster Bennett has as yet received no other funds than drafts on New York and New Orleans, neither of which are very current here at present, as exchange at this season of the year is not much wanted, and the Indians will not have them. I cannot, therefore, expect to make available the amount of Tennessee money which he has disbursed in the Paymaster's Department."

Extract of a letter from Major General Winfield Scott to the Secretary of War, dated Cherokee Agency, August 10, 1838.

* * * * * * * * *

"Active preparations are going on for recommencing the emigration with vigor. I am afraid, however, that the disbursing officers (Captains Page and Simonton) may soon experience much embarrassment from the want of funds, in a convenient form, for use. They lent Treasury notes to the paymasters, with my sanction, for settling with the discharged militia, expecting to repay the amount in money of the same kind, on the arrival of promised remittances; but when these came, they were found to consist of large drafts on banks in New York and New Orleans; and the banks and merchants, within many hundred miles around us, are unable or unwilling to give specie or Treasury notes in exchange for drafts of fifty thousand dollars each."
